

Drew's Eagle Service Project

When:

- 8 am on May 19, 2012

Where:

- Audubon Society Woodend Sanctuary
8940 Jones Mill Road
Chevy Chase, Maryland 20815

What It Is:

- We will be installing a short retaining wall to create a bed for some American Hollies.
- The Hollies will act as a screen between the Audubon campus and the neighboring properties.

Who I Need:

- Some strong people to help move the plants and the soil.
- Some younger guys to pick up the slack, and help install the retaining wall.

What To Wear/ Bring:

- We will be working outside so you should bring some form of sun protection if you have sensitive skin.
- Clothes that you don't mind getting dirty. We will literally be working with dirt. Also boots or any kind of closed toed shoes should be worn.
- Work gloves to protect your hands.

Why Come?

- Pizza.
- Doughnuts.
- Drinks.
- SSL hours.
- It's the right thing to do.

Additional Notes:

- Feel free to Email me at ajthieme@gmail.com with any questions!

